Korunovácie v Prešporku

Bratislava, ktorú kedysi Slováci nazývali Prešporkom, Nemci Pressburg a Maďari Pozsony sa stala korunovačným mestom, keď Turci pri okupácii Uhorska obsadili dejisko korunovácií, mesto Stoličný Belehrad (Székesfehérvár).

► V Dóme sv. Martina v rokoch 1563-1830 korunovali 10 kráľov, jednu panujúcu kráľovnú a 7 kráľovských manželiek.

Korunovačný sprievod

Pri korunovaní kráľov bol stanovený presný priebeh ceremoniálu a bola určená presná trasa, po ktorej sa presúval korunovačný sprievod.

Novozvolený panovník sa z dómu vydal s korunovačným sprievodom cez mesto. Na čele sprievodu za krížom kráčali knázi a za nimi magnáti, ktorí niesli zástavy krajín patriacich k Uhorsku. Cesta bola pokrytá farebným plátnom, ktoré po prechode sprievodu roztrhalo obyvateľstvo mesta na kusy.

- Vo františkánskom kostole ③ bolo prichystané pódium s trónom, odkiaľ kráľ pasoval korunovačným mečom vybraných mužov za rytierov Rádu zlatej ostrohy za verné služby panovníkov.
- Cez Michalskú bránu ④ sprievod opustil územie stredovekého mesta a zastavil sa na voľnom priestranstve ⑤ za mestským opevnením, kde nový panovník zložil slávostnú prísahu.
- Na nábreží Dunaja ⑥ bol vytvorený korunovačný pahorok zo zeminy zo všetkých žúp uhorského kráľovstva. Panovník na koni vyšiel cvalom na kopec a sekol mečom na štyri svetové strany, čím symbolicky prisľubil ochranu svojmu kráľovstvu pred nepriateľmi zo všetkých svetových strán.
- Novozvoleného kráľa čakala v slávostnej sieni hradu ⑦ alebo v Primaciálnom paláci ⑧ korunovačná hostina, ale oslavoval aj ľud v uliciach mesta. Počas sprievodu sa rozhadzovali medzi ľudí peniaze a pamätné mince, na ražňoch sa piekli voly a z fontány tieklo víno. Ani o zábavu nebola nádza, odohrávali sa rytierske turnaje a nechýbal ani ohňostroj.

- A podium would be set up in the Franciscan Church ③ with a throne, and there the king would knight selected men to the Order of the Golden Spur for their faithful service to the Monarchy.
- It was through Michael's Gate ④ that the coronation procession left the city and would stop at an open area ⑤ outside the city walls for the new ruler to take his solemn oath.
- On the banks of the Danube ⑥, a coronation mound would be made from soil coming from all of the counties in the Kingdom of Hungary. The king would come on horseback to the hill, waving a sword in the four cardinal directions to promise symbolically protection for his kingdom against enemies from all corners of the world.
- For the newly-chosen king a coronation feast would be prepared either inside the castle ⑦ or at the Primate's Palace ⑧ while people were also celebrating in the streets of the city. During the procession, money and commemorative coins would be thrown to the people, oxen were roasted on stakes and the fountains were full of wine. And the entertainment continued as the knights jousting in tournaments and there were fireworks at night.

Coronation Procession

When kings were crowned, the exact ceremony was orchestrated and the precise route of the procession was also determined.

Leaving the cathedral, the newly elected king would be escorted through the city. The priests would walk at the head of the procession with a cross in front, while behind them would be the magnates carrying flags of the lands belonging to Hungary. The coronation route would be covered by coloured carpet, which would be torn into pieces after the procession by the city's residents.

Coronations in Pressburg

Bratislava, once called Prešporok by the Slovaks, Pressburg by the Germans and Pozsony by the Hungarians became the coronation city when the Ottoman Turks occupied Székesfehérvár, the site of previous coronations.

► It was in St. Martin's Cathedral that ten kings, seven queen consorts and one reigning queen were crowned between 1563 and 1830.

- When a queen consort was crowned, the Royal Crown would be held above her right shoulder to symbolize her willingness to stand beside her husband and to help carry the burdens of royal duties.

- Maria Theresa

The only reigning queen crowned in Bratislava was Maria Theresa, who solemnly accepted the title of Queen of Hungary on June 25, 1741. At a session of the Diet of Hungary on September 11 the Hungarian counts confirmed they would sacrifice their „lives and blood“ for the queen with a yell of „Vitam et sanguinem.“ She initiated many reforms, converted Bratislava castle into a royal residence and allowed some of the fortifications to be torn down in order to expand the city.

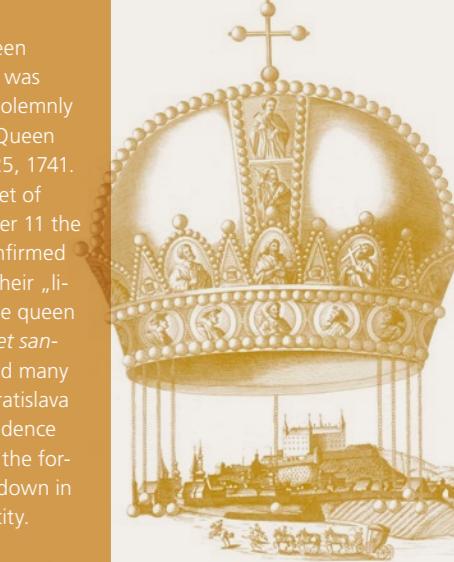

Vivat Rex!

In Hungary, the king would receive the Crown of St. Stephen and during the ceremony he would be dressed in a richly embroidered coronet cloak. He was given a sword, which he used to dub the knights of the Order of the Golden Spur, a golden orb and a sceptre.

Witnesses to the Coronation

Nowadays, Bratislava's streets are lined with churches and buildings where historical events have taken place; houses that were along the coronation route; and squares which witnessed the coronation ceremonies.

- ▀ Today, part of the original coronation procession route is marked with brass crowns embedded in the pavement.

St. Martin's Cathedral 1 became the coronation cathedral for almost three centuries. It is commemorated by the replica of the golden Crown of Hungary at the top of the tower and by an incomplete list of the monarchs crowned here, painted on the wall next to the altar. Some bishops and noblemen who took part in the coronation have been laid to rest in the crypts. Castle 7 where the Kings of Hungary had resided since 1536 and the crown jewels were guarded in its southwest tower until 1784.

The Main Square 2 is dominated by a fountain with a statue of Maximilian, the first king to be crowned in Bratislava. Franciscan Church 3 witnessed the dubbing of knights by the newly-elected ruler.

Primate's Palace 8 is the former residence of the Archbishop. Kings were accommodated here and the coronation feast was held here, too.

Michael's Gate 4 is the last remaining gate from the city's fortifications where the coronation procession left the city. Today it houses a museum of weapons and the Coronation Photo-video Point.

Coronation Festivities Watch the royal past come to life during the Bratislava Coronation Days, when visitors get involved directly in the ceremonies as they are reenacted by actors and enthusiasts wearing period costumes. Svedkovia korunovácií

V uliciach dnešnej Bratislav sa nachádzajú kostoly a budovy, v ktorých sa odohrávali historické udalosti, stále tu stoja domy, ktoré lemovali trasu korunovačného sprievodu a existujú námestia, ktoré boli svedkami korunovačného obradu.

▀ Časť trasy pôvodného korunovačného sprievodu je dnes vyznačená mosadznými korunkami v dlažbe.

Dóm sv. Martina

1 sa stal na takmer tri storočia korunovačným chrámom, čo pripomína dodnes model pozlátenej uhorskej koruny na vrchole veže, neúplný zoznam korunovačných kráľov a kráľovien namaľovaný na stene vľavo od oltára. V kryptách katedrály odpočívajú mnohí biskupi a šľachtici, ktorí sa zúčastňovali korunovácií.

Hrad 7 bol od roku 1536 rezidenciou uhorských kráľov a v jeho juhozápadnej veži do roku 1784 strážili korunovačné klenoty.

Hlavnému námestiu 2 dominuje radnica a fontána s podobizňou Maximiliána, prvého panovníka korunovaného v meste.

Františkánsky kostol 3 bol svedkom pasovania rytierov novozvoleným panovníkom.

Primaciálny palác 8 bol sídlom arcibiskupa, ktorom sa ubývali aj králi, prípadne sa tam konala korunovačná hostina.

Michalská brána 4 je poslednou zachovanou bránonou z mestského opevnenia, cez ktorú opúšťal korunovačný sprievod mesto. Dnes v jej veži nájdete Múzeum zbraní a Korunovačný foto-video point.

Korunovačné oslavy

Kráľovská minulosť ožíva v Bratislave každoročne počas Bratislavských korunovačných dní, kedy sa návštěvníci stávajú priamymi účastníkmi zinscenovanej ceremonie s účasťou hercov a nadšencov v dobových kostymoch. Viacero slávností sprevádzajú množstvo podujatí, rytierske hry, divadelné a hudobné predstavenia, prednášky a výstavy a zábava pre všetkých.

Korunovačný foto – video point

Preneste sa do obdobia korunovácií v Korunovačnom foto-video pointe. Nájdete tu autentický 3D model historického mesta s vyznačením trasy korunovačného sprievodu. Môžete sa odfotiť a nahrať video v dobovom kostýme s korunovačnými insígniami a stať sa súčasťou historického výjavu.
