If you plan to organize an event with character and you need a venue that will help you to create an extraordinary, unique and unforgettable feeling, we have some Off The beaten MICE track ideas for you, that won't let you down. These venues are a treat for all of your senses....

THE ART OF MEETING

Waterworks Museum is located 10 minutes' drive from the city center, located in the historical site of the first pumping station in Karlova Ves. The Museum can host a wide range of events, from business events, conferences, banquets, car presentations, weddings and so on.¹ The venue can be adapted to the type of event – the capacity of the museum is up to 50, 200 or 350 people, depending on the configuration of the whole space.

Danubiana is a museum of modern and contemporary art close to Bratislava and located on a peninsula surrounded by nature and the river Danube. In the Danubiana Meulenstein Art Museum, they prefer to host smaller events, with 100 to 150 people their maximum, as it is in their interest to protect their artworks and prevent any possible damage, which makes sense as hosting many people would make it hard to control them.

The goal of the Nedbalka Gallery is to introduce to the wider public the amazing works of Slovak fine art from the late nineteenth to the early twentieth century. The Nedbalka Gallery offers exclusive premises for rent in the city center, including a unique backdrop for various events from receptions, lectures, seminars, conferences, concerts and press conferences all the way to photo and commercial shootings. The ground floor has an area of 176 square meters, with capacity for 150 people standing and 100 people seated.

MEET IN STYLE

Spanning the Danube River and in a traditional architectural form, this 20th-century steel bridge has at the very top of its tower the UFO Restaurant, offering mesmeric and unforgettable views of the city, where from a 95-meter height you can take in the entire city stretching out directly below you. The UFO Restaurant can accommodate for up to 140 seated or 250 standing guests and a quality team of professionals to ensure the perfect comfort of every guest. The "UFO watch.taste.groove." is an event location in the city center with its own parking place and where attendees can meet in a stylish ambiance and be impressed by the views of the city whilst enjoying a world-class culinary extravaganza.
